Orderly John sulks through the halls of the rest home talking out loud

ORDERLY JOHN

God I hate this place, these old geezers really piss me off. why don't they do the world a favor and just die already. The smell is horrendous it's like bengay and urine, whose job is it to change these people anyway... oh wait that's right it's my job, I'm sure they're fine till tomorrow.

As he walks down the hallway and old woman walks out in front of him walking as fast as she could move.

ORDERLY JOHN

oh come on move it grandma, some of us are still alive back here do me a favor and let the living ahead of you. If i were a cheetah you'd already be dead, hell if I was a man eating turtle you'd be dead. Wait are you dead, fuck it I'm going.

Orderly John pushes aside the woman and continues down the hall and stops by orderly mike.

hey mike, don't you hate this place

ORDERLY MIKE

i guess so, but the perks aint bad.

Orderly mike picks up a prescription bottle belonging to one of the elderly and swallows most of the pills.

ORDERLY JOHN

that's true, hey did you know that if you mix the red ones with those purple ones and watch tv upside down, ...you just get really fuck'en sick, nothing happens.

ORDERLY MIKE

I gotta try that, you said the red ones with the purple ones

ORDERLY JOHN

ok well you try that and I'll go tell Mr. Pliskin that his daughter who he hasn't seen in 14 years is coming over tomorrow

ORDERLY MIKE

wow really?

ORDERLY JOHN

no, I just love to watch him sit there all day staring at the the door. Besides, he has the big bed and I need his room free for what his daughter really comes by here
for.
